Description

I'm using 3.8.2 on OpenSUSE 42.2 with KDE Plasma 5.8.6 (rpm is from packman)

The slider which shows the position in the file does not allow any change of position in the file.

Works fine here. Be sure to let us know if you find a fix.

Which interface are you using? The GTK+ or Qt one?

"with KDE Plasma 5.8.6" - Qt.

The time slider works fine in both interfaces. It's more likely an input plugin problem. The utter lack of relevant information in the bug report makes it difficult to say, though.

We need the same information as for any other bug report on any other project. Start by giving us a test case to reproduce the problem. Include your program configuration (~/.config/audacious/config), the input file you're trying to play, and the program's diagnostic log (audacious -V). Describe not only what you expected to happen but also what actually happened: did the slider snap back to where it was before or stay at the position you dragged it to? did it move at all when you tried to drag it or was it completely disabled/non-responsive? was it visually grayed-out? did playback stop or continue from where it was? was there any audible glitch?

Please close this bug; I suspect it's a bug in the packages by the distribution and GTK3.
