

Audacious - Bug #108

Jump to Song doesn't respond to enter at the first place

Description

When 'Jump to Song' window is called with a defined shortcut key, and something is typed in filter, pressing enter doesn't do any jump because no song is selected by default even if the list is filtered to one track. What you have to do is switch to filtered song list below the filter input pressing tab key 3 times, and then press enter.

The solution may be selecting first matched song after filtering list, I guess.

Instead of pressing Tab three times, just press the Down cursor key and then Enter.
