Description
id like to be able to hit next on the last track of the playlist and have it automatically loop to the top of the playlist, or hit previous track and have it loop to the bottom of the list instead of do nothing. im using winamp skins if that makes a difference.

The first one is trivial to achieve with the "REP" button (Repeat), which restarts at the start of the list at the end of the last track. The reverse behaviour is not available, afaik (and I'm not available of any device that jump to the last track in the described way).

im saying the forwards and backwards should always work regardless of any settings.... my media keyboard has a play/pause prev next stop eject setup. when i loop from last song i cant reverse and go back to what i was listening to with out forwarding through my entire playlist and this can become a major hassle with large playlists, anything more than 20 songs is unreasonable. thanks for your prompt response.
