

Audacious - Feature #51

Option to inhibit suspend

January 19, 2012 11:39 - acar burak

Status: New	Start date: January 19, 2012
Priority: Minor	Due date:
Assignee:	% Done: 0%
Category:	Estimated time: 0.00 hour
Target version:
Affects version:
Description
One sometimes uses the computer just as a hifi and an option to inhibit suspend (not screensaver) is necessary for this.
Regards.

History

#1 - January 19, 2012 13:42 - John Lindgren

- Status changed from New to Rejected

There is no standard way of doing this, to my knowledge. You can look up the relevant commands for your system and use a script to call them when you start Audacious.

#2 - January 12, 2018 14:47 - Volker Bethke

I would like this bug to be reopened, because there is a standard (via systemd / dbus) now for this:

<https://www.freedesktop.org/wiki/Software/systemd/inhibit/>

There should be at least a plugin available for that.

#3 - January 13, 2018 03:07 - John Lindgren

- Status changed from Rejected to New