Description

Audacious updated in Ubuntu 10.04 64 bit repositories to 2.5.3. So I updated it. I noticed when I play tracker modules (those old music files with .xm, .s3m, .it, etc extensions) in single repeat mode the player does not repeat playing.

Also sometimes in playlist mode it does not start playing the next track, I have to hit the play button to continue playing.

When playing more conventional formats (.mp3, .wav, .wma, etc) I don't experience this problem.

I wonder if this bug is fixed in the latest version, and I also wonder how to install the latest version without breaking my 10.04 Ubuntu system (the new version requires newer versions of the core libraries which appear only in the latest Ubuntu releases.)
