Description When I right-click on a song entry and the "Song Info" window pops up, it shows all the fields and their current values. I can click on one I wish to edit, but I'm not able to type anything in, but the [Save] button is active. Am I doing something wrong or is this not yet implemented on the Qt side? (GTK side: fields are editable)

Click on a field value a second time to edit it. This is standard Qt behavior, but maybe we should add a hint to the dialog, since I agree that it's not obvious.
